

DEDDINGTON NEWS

September 1976

The idea of a community newsletter, magazine, call it what you will, has been around for some time. With 25 or so clubs, societies and groups in the village, each with activities of potential interest to at least some of the 1200 or so residents, the need for some vehicle of communication has long been felt.

It is our aim not only to pass on reports, news and information, but also to print original contributions, and to provide a forum for views and opinions on any topic relevant to life in Deddington. In fact Deddington life in its widest sense is the life-blood of the magazine. If anything happens we want to know about it and what people think of it - if nothing happens, there is no magazine.

And who are "we": a Publications Committee consisting of Jill Cheeseman (reports and correspondence), Monica Sansome and Mary Sullivan (advertising) and Mary Robinson (editor). In case you think this is a Women's Lib. takeover, two mere males are involved! The co-ordinator and man behind the whole idea is Gerard Sullivan and Tony Mann is in charge of Finance.

If you have anything to say about any aspect of life in Deddington, please do write to us. We will consider anything within reason - slander excepted. Contributions will be printed anonymously if you like, provided that the editor has the writer's name and address.

Our thanks are extended to the Parish Council for their financial support - we hope they will continue to support us as a valuable service to the community. It is hoped to make a report of Parish Council meetings a regular feature of the newsletter, starting next month. Also next month we have a short history of Deddington Church and hopefully carry news of recent meetings around the village, particularly from those groups who didn't manage to contribute to this issue.

What about the title - the magazine covers more than Deddington news. We welcome suggestions for improvements. How about "Deddington Forum", forum being the Roman Market Place where news was discussed and ideas exchanged? Send your ideas, reactions, suggestions, and in fact all contributions to: Jill Cheeseman, 35 The Daedings, Deddington. Phone: 609

Cover drawing and advertisement layout: Rob Sansome

Our thanks to: the Rev. George Palmer for printing facilities;
the Guides for distribution.

CLIFTON NEWS

A 67-year old man, Mr. Dudley Bryan of Banbury, suffered serious spinal injuries in a fall from a lorry which he was unloading at a farm in Clifton. He was taken to the Intensive Care Unit at the Horton General Hospital and was later transferred by helicopter to Lodgemoor Hospital, Sheffield, for specialist treatment.

The fine weather has meant that the harvest has been earlier than usual, but the drought has caused the corn to be light in the ear.

Birth: on 1st August, to Mr. and Mrs. G. Fennemore of Home Farm, a daughter.

The Church: as a result of the sale of the Church, the organ was given to Barford St. Michael, the plate to Zaire Christians, and the bell to the chapel at Grendon Underwood prison. The stained glass went to the Stained Glass Museum in London and the font to Woodstock Museum. The floor tiles are now in a private house in Juniper Hill. The Church was sold to Dennis Allen of Middle Aston and Robert Prior of Croughton who used to work in Hatton Garden, and are manufacturing Victorian-style bracelets, mostly in silver, but also in a smaller quantity in gold, with the help of Dennis' wife Gillian and Jane Hemsley. Their work is entirely for wholesale, and in time they hope to expand into other lines. They have scrupulously retained the external appearance of the Church, and intend to plant shrubs and flowers in front of the building to make it an attractive part of the village.

Mr. Donald Welford has raised with the Parish Council the placing of village nameboards at either end of the village. Their want has long been felt but previous efforts to obtain them have been unsuccessful and it is to be hoped that Mr. Welford will be able to convince the authorities.

DEDDINGTON LADIES

The Deddington Ladies Group meets at 8pm on the first Wednesday in every month at the Holly Tree Club. The annual subscription is 10p and we cater for all age groups, meeting in a very informal atmosphere. New members are always welcome.

This year members are enjoying a varied and active programme. So far we have had talks, films or demonstrations on topics ranging from water gardens, photography, gardening, Easter cooking, crime prevention and the history of Banbury. We also held a successful "warehouse party" and garden fete, the latter raising £40 for the Social Services Chalet for the Disabled Fund. Other recent outings have included visits to the Birmingham ATV Studios for the New Faces show, Thames Valley Police HQ and Hook Norton Brewery.

In September we have Sheila Stewart coming to talk about her latest book "Country Courtship", and on September 18th a visit is planned to the Newbury Agricultural Show. For the October 6th meeting we hope to have a talk and demonstration by a representative of the Pedlars Basket craft shop in Banbury.

CHORAL SOCIETY

The Deddington and District Choral Society had its origin in a Carol Party held at the house of Mrs. Berthon and the late Admiral Berthon in the 1950's. Miss Pilkington, County Music Organiser, put the Society on a more formal basis and was its first conductor while Admiral Berthon combined the offices of Secretary and Treasurer for the first few years.

Meetings are held every Monday at 7.30 p.m. during the school term, and the next session will begin on Monday September 13th in the hall of Windmill School. New members (especially tenors!) are most welcome. The conductor is Glyn Davies and the Secretary is Mrs. Chanter, South Newington (Phone: Banbury 720453).

A concert of Christmas music is given every year and the society joins with other village choirs for a summer or autumn concert. In May this year joint performances of Haydn's Creation were given with the Stonesfield Choral Society at Deddington and Stonesfield. A concert of shorter works was given in Deddington church in July, in which the local society was joined by several Oxfordshire choirs.

HOLLY TREE CLUB

The Holly Tree Club (for the over 60s) in Deddington has had various activities during the summer. We started on 5th May with an excellent amusing speaker from Age Concern, who not only knew most of our own problems, but seems to have exactly the same himself! On May 12th, the club had their first outing to Leamington Spa, and on June 19th we held a very successful Jumble Sale - in spite of pouring rain. In July the club had an all-day outing to Southsea which, I hear, was a great success in spite of intense heat.

On August 18th Mr. Raymond West is to give the club a most generous free outing to the Wildlife Park at Burford. In October we hope to have another Jumble Sale to raise funds for the club Christmas Dinner, so let us hope it will bring the splendid rain that the first brought, and help end the dreadful effects of the drought. Also in October is our Harvest Thanksgiving and short Service, followed by a sale of produce - if any?

Praise and Gift Service

Sunday 19th September 11.00 a.m. and 6.00 p.m.

Harvest Festival Services.

The Trustees of the Church have recently purchased No. 3 Castle Terrace for a Manse. We hope in the not too distant future to have a resident Minister once again. The Church is greatly in need of pastoral oversight and as many Deddington residents will know from previous experience, a Minister is also an asset to the village community.

We shall be very pleased to welcome anyone to the Church and children to the Sunday School.

W. I. NEWS

Deddington Women's Institute meets on the second Tuesday in each month in the Holly Tree Club at 7.30 p.m.

In July we had a talk on the lives of famous women, illustrated with several beautifully dressed dolls. We held a Mini-Market in the Market Place on the 17th July with a very satisfactory profit for our efforts. During August we had a very pleasant evening meal at the College Arms at Quinton, accompanied by husbands and friends. For September we have a talk on flower arranging with a competition for the best arrangement in a wine-glass and, if possible, an auction of garden produce, although the drought may cause us problems. Meetings on a wide variety of topics are arranged for the coming months.

1st DEDDINGTON GUIDES

Calling all girls between 10-14 years! 1st Deddington Guides are a lively and sometimes noisy bunch of girls who have fun together helping others and themselves. Forget the old "do-gooders" and "square" image of Guides. Our Guides work hard at worthwhile activities like First Aid, they go on hikes (you should hear the moans!), Cook-Outs (shouts all round for bangers and beans!), sing (and I really mean sing!) and generally torment us - that is Mrs. Rampley, Mrs. Jones, our Assistant Mrs. Stammers and our Unit Helper Mrs. Middleton.

We meet at the Windmill School Hall every Tuesday starting 14th September from 7 - 9. So please come and join the 1st Deddington Guides - a phone call to 444 or 8145 first would be nice, but not essential.

THE GREAT DEDDINGTON SKIRMISH

Geoffrey Hindley

Research for my new book, "England in the Age of Caxton", has led me down some brackish backwaters of our local history. During the 15th century 'law and order' in England was by no means what it might have been. The occasional battles known as 'The Wars of the Roses' caused far less disturbance than the strong-arm activities of a hundred local "Mr.Bigs". Most places had at least one local war - Deddington's was against John Aston of Somerton.

Aston was a prosperous gentleman thanks largely, it appears, to active lawyers backed up by active bully boys. Early in 1430 a group of exasperated neighbours, led by John Somerton of Deddington, also 'gentilman', hit back. Somerton's party was recruited largely from his fellow townsmen - Richard Baynard, carpenter; Thomas Schlatter, a slater; Richard Wodeford, tailor; John Cook, bell maker; Richard Smyth, blacksmith; John Smyth, another carpenter; and William Spicer, husbandman. 'Arrayed in manner of war', they proceeded to break 'the close and houses of the said John Aston at Somerton, assaulted him and took away goods to the value of £20, and beat and wounded his servants and so threatened them that they dared not go about his business for fear of death and mayhem.' The Aston nuisance was abated for the time being but, in March that year, he brought a summons against the 'malefactors'.

One reputation at least survived the trial. Fifteen years later the name of John Somerton heads the list of Deddington men who set up the Holy Trinity Guild which provided the town with its first school. The medieval syllabus did not include a course in Civics. Even if it had, one doubts whether John Somerton, gentleman, would have been called in to advise.

The records contain quite a lot of anecdotal material on Deddington and the region round about during the middle ages. The next issue of the News Letter will carry a report of low dealings in high places during the 1450s. It exposes the doubtful business ethics of a Banbury man at law, the unprincipled self interest of a Barford gentleman and the corruption of a Westminster clerk, brought to light by some shrewd detective work at Westminster and in Oxfordshire.

Geoffrey Hindley, President of the Deddington Society, has lived in Deddington since 1966 as a writer and editor. He has written numerous books on music and history, such as Castles of Europe, The Medieval Establishment, Medieval Warfare, The Shaping of Europe and, most recently, a Biography of Saladin. He has lectured in music appreciation at Epwell and Adderbury and starts a new course at Hook Norton this term. In 1974 he gave a course of lectures on Deddington Local History.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE RESIDENTS OF DEDDINGTON:

Rubbish: the subject has been raised time and time again, wheels have been set in motion and the job actually undertaken but, as always, all good intentions have failed to come to fruition. Why is it that we have been unable to find the answer to the problem? No doubt someone has an idea that will work once and for all, or have we all become too complacent and accepted the situation for what it is?

We all play our part in some small way. Blame can be offloaded so easily - that 'invisible body' leaving a trail of destruction in his wake. Deddington could and should be a lovely village - we have so much to be proud of and yet we allow the filth to spread like the plague. We really should be ashamed of ourselves letting our village go downhill at such a rapid pace.

Wake up Deddington and take a long, hard look at the situation. There is a solution somewhere.

Rowena Maskery
Deddington

(Any realistic suggestions for tackling the litter problem will be published in the next issue. If we are unwilling or unable to clear up our rubbish, are we perhaps willing to pay someone else to do it? - Ed.)

1st DEDDINGTON BROWNIES

The Brownies meet every Tuesday in term-time at the Windmill School Hall from 5.30 - 6.45pm. For the past two years the Pack has had its permitted maximum of 24, but Mrs. Bouverie or Mrs. Rignall are always glad of names to put on the waiting list. Brownies are aged between 7 and 10 years and can stay in the Pack until their 11th birthday.

The Pack is collecting silver foil (milk bottle tops) for the Guide Dogs for the Blind, used postage stamps for Oxfordshire's Jubilee House for Guides and Brownies, and aluminium ring-pulls and aluminium cans for their own funds. If you have any of these items we shall be glad to collect them.

This year the Brownies activities have included a visit to the B.B.C. television theatre to see "Crackerjack" being made, a talk from a lady from the Guide dogs to whom they presented two large sacks of silver foil, taking part in the Scouts annual St. George's Day parade in Banbury, and going to Brownie Revels at Barford St. Michael Manor which is a kind of Brownie party.

V.P.B.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

In addition to our usual Sunday Worship and weekday meetings, this month we shall be holding our Harvest Thanksgiving Services. These are on Sunday 12th September, with a children's service at 2.30pm. and evening service at 6.00pm. both to be conducted by Mr. Stephen English. A warm welcome is extended to all.

Joyce Minnear

CONSERVATIVE FETE

I mistrust politicians, but readily agree that if the only alternative is anarchy, then I suppose that we should tolerate them. Neither is professional one of my favourite words but again, footballers apart, I accept that they are necessary. In a week when the Houghton Committee suggests that our political parties should be subsidised to the tune of £2½ million annually, to report the annual Tory Garden Party, held in the grounds of Leadenporch House on Saturday, 31st July, is a delight. Mainly because it was English, enthusiastically amateur and because, I believe that if we must have political parties, then we should pay for them ourselves. Such events can have changed little in format for years. There was bowling, book and jumble stalls, tea and local produce stalls, a fridge on auction and an ingenious yet simple game of chance to find the egg. The Member duly appeared and a benevolent Treasurer totted it all up on his abacus. Two bibulous barkers even secreted a quantity of local beer in the fridge. I hope Mrs. Thatcher will reward the faithful and I wonder if Conservatives will find the real egg for the next election?

1st DEDDINGTON SCOUT GROUP

At last we are able to announce that our new HQ at the Windmill School will be officially opened during October.

The Scouts spent an enjoyable week camping with the 4th Banbury group at Kimmeridge near Corfe Castle. The week's programme included swimming, hiking and a visit to Bovington Tank Museum. Twenty seven Cubs attended a weekend camp held at Danes Hill, where many of the boys obtained proficiency badges. On a hilarious Saturday afternoon, parents were invited to "visit the moon!"

The next social event in our calendar will be a Buffet Dance with licensed bar, on Friday, 24th September, 1976, in Aynho Village Hall from 8.00 - 12.30. Dancing is to Mother-of-Pearl and tickets are now available at £1.25.

Group Scout Leader

DEDDINGTON YOUTH CLUB

The Youth Club is closed for the summer break at present following an active summer programme which included archery, swimming, an evening going over the Army Assault Course at Bicester, a disco, as well as visiting and playing host to other clubs. As well as the activity scheduled for the evening, there is usually a chance for members to play table tennis, snooker and darts, or just to stand around chatting or sit and read or listen to records. The first meeting of the autumn session will be held on Wednesday, 22nd September at 7.30 - 10pm. in the Wesleyan Hall and new members (13 - 21 years) are always welcome.

Rodney Holliday

PLAYGROUP

The Playgroup Hut, happily situated on the Hempton Road edge of the village, resounds to 16 small but unbelievably loud voices every weekday morning during term-time. Up to the end of the spring term, the register is full, but parents new to the village are welcome to contact us as occasional vacancies do occur when families move away.

Rising Fives, soon to be excluded from most primary schools, are the subject of a new course to be taken by the Supervisor, Rose Powell. In this connection we are looking for a reliable, paid helper for Wednesday mornings during term time, 9.15-12 noon. Anyone interested please contact Rose Powell, Sunnyside, Hopcraft Lane, Deddington, Phone: 472.

The AGM is to be held on 30th September at 8.00pm. in the Playgroup Hut. All parents are welcome to attend - a few fathers would be a nice change!

DEDDINGTON SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

What do we do?

Provide a means whereby parents and well-wishers of the school can meet the staff and co-operate to benefit the children and the school.

What have we done?

Built a swimming pool - Contributed towards the conversion of the hall into two classrooms - Taken all the children to the circus - Run dances, social evenings and other functions - Regularly run the school fete which this year raised over £400.

What are we hoping to do?

Maintain and heat the pool (a continuing commitment estimated at £300 a year) - Provide changing rooms (if funds permit) - Invite speakers to explain matters of educational interest - Run a Dance in the Autumn - Support the Managers and staff in efforts to ensure that the school continues to receive all that it is entitled to in these difficult times - Ensure that our children receive the best that can be provided.

What else should we do?

You tell us at the Annual General Meeting on Wednesday 13th October.

Peter Husbands
